

NYC 2020

New York City Says It Experienced the...

JESSICA HOCKETT MAR 19  66  51  4

How believable is this?

Read →

51 Comments

↑↓ Top first

Write a comment...

nymusicdaily Mar 20

...

 Liked by Jessica Hockett

if this many people actually died, where did they hide the bodies? why wasn't the medical examiner's office hiring extra staff, especially since so many people had been sent home after cuomo deemed them "unessential?"

seriously. i lived through this in nyc, i had a huge address book and not one of the 2k people in it knew anyone who died. i did lose a single acquaintance to the hospital protocols that march, but that's it.

 REPLY (2)  SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

...

 Author

Stay tuned on the staff-hiring part.

In the meantime, where is the Chief Medical Examiner's report on this feat?

<https://www.woodhouse76.com/p/why-did-the-new-york-city-medical>

 REPLY  SHARE

bawls84626@mypacks.net Mar 20

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

You raise an intriguing areas of inquiry that ought be explored to help explain this unexplicable spike and rapid tapering off after April. That spike is no "normal" curve. Yes what was the demand on Medical Examiners. Since NY has conspired from top down to withhold this crucial death data and correllary data that Jessica has been fighting for, what other data could be obtained from surveys or man/woman on the street. Probably a crazy idea, but your anecdote made me think of that.

My anecdote:

In the very early weeks (Greater chicago area) I visited many Big Box establishments. Costco, Sams, Walmart, Home Depot, Menards. I estimate each must have staff of upwards of 3-400 employees.

At the height of the pandemic in NY I asked employees of these stores (all of them) casually -Do you know anyone in your family who got sick? 90% said no.

-Do you know of anyone in store who got sick? Very few. Prob 90% did not know of anyone directly -Do you know anyone who died? Again 100% said NO.

I know that this is totally unscientific and informal, however would one one expect these stores to be a continual vector of a supposedly spreading respiratory virus with so many employees and tens of thousands items stocked, handled, purchased and run through conveyer belts every day?

We do need real NY public health data but even if it is finally released I fear that

... ..

REPLY (3) SHARE

Doug Young Mar 20

You can still watch Jason's videos on his Crowdsorce the Truth channels. They spurred me on to drive around to hospitals here in SF and also watch nothing happening.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Mcc Mar 20

I did the same in the Philadelphia suburbs , including visiting a large teaching hospital. Crickets . No cars. No people. Ghost towns. Total scam.

REPLY SHARE

Bandit Mar 21

Liked by Jessica Hockett

Spouse had to go to VA hospital for an appointment during the alleged mess. Other than employees, and probably a few vets, the parking lots were empty. The hospital dead. No crowds of sick vets. Nothing.

REPLY SHARE

nymusicdaily Mar 20 Edited jason goodman did great work. lots of other powerful evidence at this substack.

for a view from the ground, tessa lena's interview with kevin nathaniel in 2020 is still the gold standard for what wasn't happening in nyc in 2020 - scroll down <https://makelanguagegreatagain.com/> in 2021 the ambulances parked with drivers in various places took a comedic turn - they'd sit empty with lights flashing for hours and hours. there was one ambulance parked empty just west of the corner of 116th and broadway for weeks on end that summer

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

And yet Jason is...not really challenging the govt's pandemic story in a meaningful way anymore, right?

REPLY (2) SHARE

bawls84626@mypacks.net Mar 20

...

Jessica, I feel that Jason has just gone out and showed reality on the ground at the height of the pandemic without opinions one way or the other on the "pandemic".

His videos were invaluable and along with John Cullens CDC/WHO death data and spread analysis FIRST opened my eyes to the truly bizarre narratives of "pandemic".

For this I am forever grateful and would not even be here on your substack were it not for his (and Cullen's) work. It was they who first challenged the impossible death numbers around the globe --from the very get go. And that is ALL they purported to do -- find, analyze and critique the global death "spread" statistics without interpretation .

Cullens graphs are beautiful and compelling and speak for themselves and always emphasized the reader/viewers to draw their own conclusions.

Moreover I feel Cullen's work actually informs your own and is highly complementary of your deep dives. NOTE: They were MOST careful not to offer opinions or editorialize and this is very important. Let the (probably crappy) CDC/WHO data speak for itsel(ves)

Cullen always meticulously outlined his data mining and analytical process of downloading said data and provided his methodology to the viewers in order to replicate for themselves. I

REPLY (2)  SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

Hi. I've cited Jason's (and others') on the ground filming in spring 2020 in threads (e.g., https://x.com/Wood_House76/status/1689841712842055680?s=20) and have posted much hospital data that shows hospitals were not overrun with patients. That includes Elmhurst https://x.com/Wood_House76/status/1763060073213862058?s=20

My theories are not aligned with John Cullen's, even though we examine similar things.

REPLY SHARE

bawls84626@mypacks.net Mar 20

Recently Cullen has started exploring early disease outbreaks, particularly of avian flu. While this is interesting to me I remain agnostic on this issue. I do not agree with everything they say but the death data/hopkins analysis of nearly 100 countries based on this website can in no way be ignored.

<https://coronavirus.jhu.edu/map.html>

REPLY SHARE

nymusicdaily Mar 20

do you have intel i don't?

REPLY SHARE

Bill Rice, Jr. Mar 20

Liked by Jessica Hockett

Not very damn believable.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

Agreed.

And this was the spectacle used to substantiate the WHO pandemic declaration and the government's claims about a sudden-spreading deadly coronavirus.

The only thing more suspicious than the numbers is the active resistance to discussing the event.

REPLY SHARE

TFish Mar 20

Liked by Jessica Hockett

Extraordinary claims demand extraordinary evidence.

Until there's proof, it looks like utter bullshit.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

Precisely

REPLY SHARE

Wm Mar 20

Liked by Jessica Hockett

I didn't believe in the Chinese agitprop prior to this. Nor the NY events in real time as it was happening. I'm in upstate NY, let me know if you need me to pop into some nyc office.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

Yes, go into the Medical Examiner's office and ask them for their report on what exactly happened with the 11K deaths processed at the end of April 2020.

Use the term "root cause analysis".

Also ask a staffer or two how many U.S. military personnel they saw and worked with in spring 2020.

<https://www.woodhouse76.com/p/why-did-the-new-york-city-medical>

REPLY (1) SHARE

Bill Mar 20

Liked by Jessica Hockett

This is a matter of national interest. We should have a patient number, date of admission to nursing home, date of admission to hospital, date of Covid -19 diagnosis, age, and hospital (or nursing home if the death occurred in a nursing home) for each death processed in these three days as well as the dates and quantities of the 5 most dangerous drugs used - midazolam, remdesivir, morphine, dilaudid, and methadone. List of names and quantities of all drugs delivered since terminal hospitalization (including every dismissal that lasted less than 10 days as a continuous hospitalization) would be ideal.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

Yes to all of this.

REPLY SHARE

Gunther Heinz Mar 20

Liked by Jessica Hockett

Go down the SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER rabbit hole. After all, in the end, that's what everybody in the USA is: just a SSN.

REPLY SHARE

RegretLeft Mar 20

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

It "matters", continues to "matter" principally because it was believed. Over two years later, people were still talking about it: "COVID's Ground Zero, Spring 2020: A Doctor, a Hospital, and a Traumatized New York"

<https://www.vanityfair.com/news/2022/06/covids-ground-zero-spring-2020-excerpt> (6/21/2022). Yet, two year later, Spring 2024, nobody is talking about it - excepting occasional vague references to "during the pandemic".

Only persons who frequent certain obscure precincts of SubStack can't stop talking about it! And there it is various versions of "UNbelievable!" which are rehearsed almost daily; with the fact that it was fervently and fanatically believed remaining the most unbelievable aspect of it all.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Allen Mar 20

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

On the heels of the fantastical Wuhan mystery theater of pangolins, bats and impromptu face plants came the Lombardy lies of stacked coffins and panic in the streets (it CAN happen here- not just in exotic places- it's moving towards us!) followed by the top down controlled NYC sci-fi virus theater which was used as the sledgehammer to bash peoples senses, convince them of the hyper-reality TV alien invasion of the invisible menace- SARS-CoV-2 in order to get them to acquiesce to a world of masks on their faces and outright medical tyranny.

There is not one grain of truth to any of the Covid folklore.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

★ Author

You would think RFK would be incentivized to call the bluff on this event.

And yet...

REPLY (1) SHARE

Allen Mar 20

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

I think he is incentivized to keep the phony pandemic gravy train rolling.

His 'stock' goes down quite a bit once it's revealed that the entire Covid story is bullshit along with his go-to fictional "lab leak" fable.

Lab leak/GoF postulations are one of the most divisive, anti-science, anti-evidence and destructive items out there which stands directly in the way of people understanding what ACTUALLY happened in Spring 2020.

RFK's "mismanaged pandemic" stance, supported by most "health freedom" celebrities, conceals what we are actually dealing with- fraud, tyranny and mass murder.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

★ Author

RFK doesn't depart from the Core Story, as far as I can tell.

Which is why he's a third-party candidate for President.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Tim R Mar 20

RFK is already considered a tin foil hat wearer among the majority for his stance on childhood vaccines. Imagine if he said "there was no pandemic" or even "pandemics don't exist"? Which I would agree with. Even if that is what he thinks, it would sink his chances. Still, he is the only candidate remotely interested in an accounting of the "pandemic" response.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

You mean, 'Imagine someone running for office standing up for the truth, come what may'?

A true unicorn. :)

REPLY (2) SHARE

Continue Thread →

Tim S Mar 20

Liked by Jessica Hockett

The events of Spring 2020 in NYC were pivotal, serving as both a shock campaign and a model for the importance of lockdowns, followed by a push for vaccination as a return to normalcy. This strategy, appearing as a unique and alarming scenario, was seemingly staged to unfold in a sequence: first in Asia (Wuhan), then Europe (northern Italy), and finally America (NYC), creating a ripple effect of preparedness and response across continents.

The specific orchestration of these events suggests that such a dramatic approach could only be effectively executed once in the U.S., with NYC's situation acting as a critical catalyst for the nationwide pandemic response. This orchestrated sequence underlines the notion that without the NYC event, there might not have been the widespread pandemonium that justified pandemic declarations, mandates, closures, and the subsequent rollout of mRNA vaccines as the pathway "back to normal."

The argument extends to the current perspective on COVID vaccine risk assessment, suggesting that the public may have been misled about the necessity and safety of vaccination. This critique points towards the ongoing role of the pharmaceutical industry in perpetuating certain narratives like over the years inflating 1918 Spanish flu deaths, potentially obscuring truth and manipulating data to maintain the status quo.

This reflection emphasizes the importance of scrutinizing and learning from the events of 2020 to prevent similar manipulations in the future, ensuring that public health responses are based on genuine need and transparent, accurate information.

REPLY SHARE

Steve Mar 20

Those numbers do seem unbelievable... But perhaps "something" more like a poison was released, as certain areas seemed to have people suffering symptoms of severe hypoxia/untreatable pneumonia, loss of taste and smell etc. and going downhill fast (like 24 hours) quite unlike a respiratory pathogen due to this noted speed of progression, was it a nerve agent, another type of poison? It seemed unique compared to "covid" worldwide, only a few metro centres, like Lombardy and New York sound similar... So maybe select releases of "something"?

It matters because footage (and death numbers) from New York was used to scare the sh!t out of the rest of the world...

Especially this footage of mass graves... Was this real? Or theatre props? Look at the workers all covered from head to toe in pandemic costumes

<https://youtu.be/P6Tleba2HCK>

Has anyone come forward to claim their relative from these mass graves? They were touted as temporary due to overwhelmed morgues.

 REPLY  SHARE

Bard Joseph Mar 20

<https://chemtrails.substack.com/p/meet-the-covid-crisis-actors-not>

Some nice footage with NYC Hospitals.

 REPLY  SHARE

Christine Mealer Mar 20

Have they wiped news articles from that time from the internet? I remember an article about several people dying who were part of the same family supposedly of Covid in the hospital. They were obese and perhaps had diabetes. Perhaps of Italian descent. I don't remember specifics. Maybe track down living members of that family and find out what happened or if they were real people.

Also I thought the whole point of "15 days to slow the spread" was so people wouldn't catch it and die but here we are with all those deaths in NYC.

When did the faux PCR test start being used?

 REPLY (1)  SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

That family was from New Jersey IIRC, but the story was always bizarre.

The point of "15 Days" was to convince people something was spreading from person-to-person, even though no such thing was demonstrated.

Another point was to create a "closed" healthcare and EMS system devoid of third-party witnesses.

PCR testing was used from the get-go.

REPLY (1) SHARE

JWM_IN_VA Mar 20

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

Yeah closed Healthcare System is an interesting point I hadn't really thought about that.

REPLY SHARE

Martin Bassani Mar 20

As believable as the explanation for the Building 7 collapse.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

Author

At least with the WTC disaster, everyone agrees buildings came down and people were killed.

Spring 2020 had 10x the casualties and no witnesses to a single event.

Also, few to no third-party witnesses in the places where the most people are purported to have died (in hospitals).

REPLY (1) SHARE

Martin Bassani Mar 20

Both engineered events have official narratives which are clearly falsehoods.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 22

Author

The world deserves to know the full truth about both events.

REPLY SHARE

Charles Mccarville Mar 20

I'm not sure if you have mentioned this previously, but there has been no corresponding decrease in mortality in NYC in the last four years. Virtually all of the covid deaths were among the very old and very unhealthy who were near the end of their life. So by now there should be an offset, but according to the CDC data there is none whatsoever. It is the dog that didn't bark.

So if some of these deaths didn't occur, why were they falsely reported? The only thing I can think of is to increase the terror by making it appear as if massive numbers of people were dying.

But how could that have been pulled off and still kept secret?

This is one of the mysteries of the whole covid nightmare.

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 20

...

Author

Hi. I agree that that "pull forward" effect in NYC is largely not there. Yet another fraud signal, in my opinion.

A disconcerting number of younger adults died in spring of 2020 - including as hospital inpatients, with their deaths blamed on COVID-19. (See point 8)

<https://pandata.org/does-new-york-city-2020-make-any-sense/>

Regarding how a fraud of this magnitude could've been pulled off, my short answer is "With a lot of planning."

 REPLY (1)  SHARE

Jeff Fisher Mar 22

...

Yes but by whom? Who are the puppets and who are the puppeteers? Trump an obvious puppet as we're all his administration and continued with Biden admin. Obama? Puppeteer? Fauci ? Puppet? WEF? World banks?

 REPLY (1)  SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 22 Edited

...

Author

I don't have those answers; I'm simply calling it as I see it.

Tangent, but related to our dialogue in another thread, among the RFK-supporting "health-freedom" influencers, I continue to see active avoidance of questions around the NYC event and the events of early 2020 in general. It's perplexing.

Biden, Trump, RFK - they all adhere to the same Core Story about a sudden-spreading risk-additive coronavirus.

 REPLY (2)  SHARE

Jeff Fisher Mar 22

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

Have you gotten any further with Pierre Kory? On the one hand I applaud his ivermectin stance but he seems to be avoiding the elephant in the room with you which is extremely disappointing

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 23

Author

I'm not trying to get further with him per se. It's on my list to finish my analysis of his responses to me, which I largely find concerning.

REPLY SHARE

Jeff Fisher Mar 22

♥ Liked by Jessica Hockett

You are a true warrior Jessica! But once the data and the deception have been seen, they cannot be unseen and it raises all these questions which are sort of mind boggling. I've made my thoughts on RFK clear so won't reiterate

REPLY (1) SHARE

Jessica Hockett Mar 22

Author

We agree about the deception for sure.

People should vote their conscience in November and we shall see what happens.

In general, Americans need to get away from the misguided notion that the person in the Oval Office is the answer.

REPLY SHARE